Title: OVERVIEW OF THE ACTIVE PEOPLE FOR A HEALTHY BARRIE PROJECT

P. Feng, Research Manager at the University of Toronto provided an overview of the Active People for a Healthy Barrie project that started in 2016. Mr. Feng explained that the Mayor of the City of Barrie, the Dean of Public Health at the University of Toronto and the Barrie and Community Family Health Team identified the need to develop a collaborative approach to address community health issues. He advised that the Active People for a Healthy Barrie Project Team has held workshops with other groups within the community to discuss physical activity issues and how the Project Team could further support citizens to be active every day.
